

30 Bank Street, Hillhead,
Glasgow, Scotland. 17/vii/07.

My dear Goldyfish,

Yesterday I wrote to you and this morning your letter, with Sir Charles Lyall's enclosed, reached me.

I thank you again most heartily for your kindness and I should be glad if I could have an opportunity of thanking Sir Charles himself. That,
I trust, will come.

There is nothing new about
my candidature except a note
this morning from Barnes of Cambridge, offering his support.

I hope you will soon
be through with your book and have a good rest. You need it and must take it.

"Modern Movements" will be a most interesting part. (I am really is moving).

With our best greeting and regards to Mrs Goldyber and yourself.

Yours faithfully,
Jennens B. Madonell

heartily for your triumph and I should be glad if I could
have an opportunity of thanking
Sir Charles himself. That I trust will come.

There is nothing new about
my candidature except a note
this morning from Barnes of
Cambridge, offering his support.

I hope you will soon
be through with your book
and have a good rest for